

ARTIST STATEMENT

Through different approaches and projects, I try to understand my own social, cultural and psychological connection to the world around and within me.

Like most Western people, I am also restless and feel a need to belong. By knowing my own story, I can also understand and know others.

My works are direct, they reflect reality as I feel and experience it. I am trying to create an order in this existence. I'm searching for the essence of the moments, the point between total chaos and sublime harmony. My work is searching for elements and moments that reflects universal, inner psychological landscapes. In these landscapes I find my identity.
